I arrived at Heinrich Heine University in April 2024 for the Summer Semester. My coordinators were very helpful, especially during the registration process. The first weeks were spent trying to adapt, as I started classes two weeks late due to visa procedures and because HHU's course and exam systems are different from my home university. During this period, the lecturers were very supportive and patiently answered all my questions.

At HHU, I attended classes in Media Philosophy and Political Science as a Master's student. I was required to make individual presentations and participate in case studies with my classmates. This allowed me to gain new perspectives and language skills on the topics covered in the lectures.

Getting used to the city was easier than I thought. The dormitory I stayed in was close to HHU and located in a quiet neighborhood. Grocery stores are conveniently nearby for daily needs. Although it is necessary to transfer to reach the city center for other needs and socializing, it is quite easy.

There is a WhatsApp group for Düsseldorf, which includes Erasmus and other foreign students. Although I could not participate in many activities due to the busy schedule of my classes. However, many fun activities and meet-ups were organized. On days when I didn't have classes or during holidays, I had the opportunity to travel with my friends to other cities in Germany and some European countries. These trips were great cultural experiences.

I will be leaving with many different experiences and good memories after about a six-month adventure at Heinrich Heine University and in Düsseldorf. It was a period that I will remember with pleasure in the future.
